

Adrienne Hermione Douglas

October 23, 1954 - May 20, 2024

Adrienne H. Douglas was summoned home to be with the Lord on Sunday, May 19, 2024. Adrienne, lovingly called "AC," entered this earth on October 23, 1954, in Washington, D.C. She was the youngest daughter of the late Harry and Barbara Smith.

Adrienne attended D.C. Public Schools. She married her childhood love, Kirk Douglas, on February 14, 1995. It was evident until her last days on this earth how much she loved him; in their presence, all you would hear was, "Where you at, 'BAY'?" or "What you doing? 'BAY'." "BAY" was her shorthand version of "BABY."

Adrienne had many admirations, but one of her greatest joys was rearing other people's children. She cared for children for over twenty-five (25) years. She loved children so much that some of those she babysat did not want to go home with their parents at the end of the day.

Her fifth love, after her husband, children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, was gambling (Bingo, Slots, and Card Playing). Adrienne was a very straightforward person. She was also very opinionated. She said what she said, and that was that.

Her personality revealed her to be a loving and compassionate person. She was always available to listen to your problems but did not hold back when she thought something was foolish.

In addition to her parents, Harry and Barbara, Adrienne was predeceased by her sisters Harriet Ellison, Sandra McCluney, Veronica Bassett, and Jacqueline Richardson.

Cherished memories of Adrienne will always be embedded in the hearts of her loving and devoted husband Kirk, her three children Nichelle Robertson, Andre Artis, and Jason Edmonds (Sharee); four grandchildren (Asia, Journee, Jeneisis, and Jhase); and two great-grandchildren (Skyler and Serenity). She is also survived by four stepchildren, Marquette Douglas (Julie), Maurice Douglas (Monique), Kierra, and Kimberly Douglas; step-grandchildren Dominique, Diamond, Mason, and Hailey Douglas; and one step-great-grandchild Dylan Douglas; as well as a host of other relatives and friends. She will be missed by all who knew and loved her outspoken and witty spirit.

“ Adrienne and I have been friends for many years. We met at bingo and our friendship grew from there. She and I loved to play bingo and go eat and just talk on the phone. I will miss her so much sitting with me and laughing. She was the best and kindest friend. Love you my friend. ”
