“Daddy, I miss you so much. My heart don't have the words. If I could turn back the hands of time just to speak to you. My heart is breaking. I have fond and happy memories with you. I started the tradition with Dallas of washing our car because I remember doing it with you when we were younger, and it was so much fun. I know you tried to be a great father, but in my eyes you were already one. You taught me how to check the tire pressure gauge. Taking us to Disney World. Daytona. The beach. Six flags. You always delighted in seeing Dallas. She loves that noise maker lol. Your legacy will live through all of us. If you ever wondered, and I hope you didn't, if you made a difference, You have. I'll continue to eat T-bone steaks and watch the Packers and Braves. I'll try to watch golf lol. Rest easy dad.
