“ I remember the day Alexis did a road trip to California and took time out of her tight schedule to come visit me in Pasadena. It was such a great surprise. We were thrilled to see each other. We always had a special connection, at least she made me feel that way. We reminisced about “times-gone-by” and it was nice to share a little slice of happiness with her. This is a fond memory I will always have of her.

“ This poem is for Lexi’s mom, I can’t imagine the pain you’re going through

WHEN TOMORROW STARTS WITHOUT ME

When tomorrow starts without me, please try to understand. That an angel came and called my name and took me by the hand; the angel said my place was ready in heaven far above, and that I’d have to leave all I dearly love. But when I walked through heavens gates, I felt so much at home for God looked down and smiled at me and said Welcome Home. So when tomorrow starts without me, don’t think we’re far apart, for every time you think of me, I’m right there in your heart. We love you Tamera/Eric and Tavon

“ A smile comes to my heart as I remember her riding on a lawn mower to my house to deliver a message or just talk. She was truly a smile and joy for me on many occasions. By Mae Simpson

“ Lex you were definitely the life of the party. I remembered our trips to Savannah for St. Patrick's day and all the good times together. Your style was unmatched with your collar button up shirts, shorts and glasses. You were the only girl I knew with a jeep. You were always on your grind in the restaurant industry. Every time I hear that Essence song I will think of you and see you dancing. Lex your time expired so soon but my memories of you are forever. May you Rest In Peace my friend.

Love you,

“ You were the brightest star in the sky. Your presence would move the entire room. Alexis, my dear, you were the true definition of a real friend. You checked on me during my darkest hours, and thank you. As I write this, I have to shed tears. No more Three Musketeers and talking for hours and hours and hours (jokey joke). Trust me when I say. God makes no mistakes. God has used you as a vessel to touch so many people's lives you couldn't even imagine. You will forever live in our hearts and memories. To be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord! In the words of Donna Hathaway and Roberta Flack “ Back Together Again “ until next time my Friend... S.I.P.

“ What a wonderful soul . I will always remember her personality and brightness when she would come to work at SPONDIVITS. I feel blessed and my life is better for knowing her . God speed my dear Alexis to the feet of the lord , you will surely be missed by us left behind. But to the ones left behind, our dear Alexis has moved on and her work here on earth is done. We are still here with work to do. Let's love and impact everyone we could come in contact with. Let's live , love and spend our time wisely, God Bless and my prayers are with you

It is so unnatural to us as a parent to lose a child. Our normal feelings is grief and to mourn the loss of a loved one.

My prayers are for you to have comfort and to gain strength each day from your memories of all the joy that Alexis brought.

Please know my prayers are with you and family.
