“ Our Uncle Alvin was a man whose presence was as comforting as it was mighty, a true gentle giant with a heart of gold. He was a man whose strength was never loud or boastful but quietly reassuring. The kind of strength that made you feel safe just by being near him. His hugs could lift your spirits just as easily as they could lift you off the ground. Behind his towering frame was a soul even larger, full of kindness, compassion and unwavering love for his family and friends.

He was the one who listened without judgment, offered help without hesitation, and loved without condition. Whether it was a word of wisdom or a shared moment of laughter, he gave of himself fully and freely. Our uncle taught us that true greatness lies not in power, but in gentleness; in the way you treat others, the way you make people feel seen and valued. His legacy is one of quiet strength, deep empathy, and a life lived with grace.

Though he may no longer walk beside us, his spirit remains forever in each memory and most importantly in every heart he touched.

We miss you deeply Uncle Alvin, and we carry you with us always.

Love You Forever,
Karen and Mariah Taylor

“ Our beloved Uncle Alvin had the kind of voice and personality that made so many of our family gatherings feel like we were at a personal R&B concert—we loved listening to the five handsome Brown brothers harmonizing and having fun together, and we rejoice in knowing that Uncle Alvin is lending his extraordinary voice in ultimate praise to our Heavenly Father, along with our family members who have gone before him. We will miss you... but you will live in our hearts always, Uncle.

There are so many memories I have of Alvin growing up with him from grade school all the way to high school with his brother's and sisters we used to play horseshoes and other games in their yard. Our Life took a different direction when we finish high school he went to the army. I went into the Marine Corps, but we kept in touch throughout the years even when he lived in Chicago Shirley, my wife and Alvin maintain a good friendship until we got older at our lives, started facing a lot of challenges, but through it all we manage to keep a phone conversation sometimes he will be greatly miss by all
