“ Just this morning I was thinking about how I would see you in the hallway and you would say, "Hey love!" and then give me one of your beautiful smiles. You will be greatly missed, but will always be remembered as a wonderful individual, educator, and most importantly, a woman of God! As your student so rightfully told us: You are in a better place. Angela is singing with the angels.

“ Ms. Ollie, I am going to miss your prayers as well as your humor with some of the students we both taught. How you would come to my room and get them when they did something they should not have and wanted to escape to my room. I always told them, she love you if she coming to get you. You were a spiritual mother to me when I first started. The private conversations we shared. WOW. Thank you for being there for me so many times. Thank you for teaching my daughter and encouraging her. Thank you for hanging in there with my nephew when he was not doing what he needed to do. Even when he frustrated you, you kept it going with him. A true teacher, a true Woman of God you illustrated. I love you so very much. This is a very hard pill for me to swallow right now. But God smiled on you and said "WELL DONE MY GOOD AND FAITHFUL SERVANT."

“ As I reflect on our path through college classes at Clayton State University to me convincing you to come and teach with me at Bear Creek Middle School. Having you over during the Holidays and Birthday celebrations. You were always able to put me in the right spirit and put a smile on my face. I appreciated the fact we were able to encourage each other. No matter where you went you always carried a ray of sunshine and love with you. No matter where we were you and I could always break out in song and praises not caring who was watching. God has truly blessed earth and heaven with a beautiful angel. I will forever love and miss you dearly. Sleep on my dear sister

“ Ms. Ollie,
I don't exactly know where to start, but I've got to say something to you. I've got to tell you (and I hope you knew) what you mean to me. There were days when I would come into the schoolhouse smiling my megawatt smile, but I would be so tired and weary on the inside. You knew, and you would come to my room and pray for me...pray with me. You always knew what was needed, and you carried yourself in a way that modeled what was right. I love you for sharing His light. I love you for being a vessel for His love. I miss you. This one is a tough one. It's hard, and I'm having a difficult time processing it, but I have comfort in knowing that you are one of His angels...a chosen one. I'm better for having known you. I love you Ms. Ollie. Forever.

“ I'm really going to miss Ms.Ollie, she was a friend, co-worker, and a spiritual mother to me. She would always come to the front office and grab my hand and say " Let's go we need to pray", and off we went. I will truly miss you!! Forever in my heart... Love Wilson

Ms. Ollie loved life, her faith, her family and her friends. She adored her students. She would call them "love". Watching her students excel brought her much pride and excitement. She made math come alive and her legacy can be seen in each and every person who knew her. She will be missed every second of every minute of every hour of every day. My condolences to her family and to her spiritual family.
