Antonio McCullough was born on March 24, 1966 to the late Vernon McCullough, Sr. and the late Annie L. McCullough-Williams in Atlanta, Georgia. He met his future soul mate, Denise Bryant in the 3rd Grade. The two were later joined in holy matrimony on March 3, 2000. To their union, they were blessed with two sons as well as two sons and a daughter from previous relationships.

Anybody that knew Antonio or "Tony", as affectionately known by family and friends, knew he loved his cars because they were always kept in immaculate condition with rims of course. He also was a die-hard WWE and New England Patriots Fan, but more of a Tom Brady fan as well as Michael Vick. In addition, he enjoyed UFC, boxing, baseball, and basketball.

He accepted Christ at a young age and grew to have a deeper relationship with him over the course of his life. Even though he wasn't a current active member of church, he did attend church services at I Thrive Christian Church.

He was a very hard-working man, and he embodied the biblical scripture in Ecclesiastes 9:10 "which states whatever your hands find to do, do it with all of your might..." He worked tirelessly providing for his family by working at various Ford and Honda Dealerships for several years, especially at the Honda Mall of Georgia for 14 years until his health declined.

On Wednesday, September 7, 2022, God answered Antonio McCullough's request for rest, allowing him to peacefully pass with an unburden and joyful heart, and his spirit went home to be with the Lord,

He was preceded in death by one brother, Vernon McCullough, Jr.; one-stepfather, Rev. Dave Williams and one father-in-law, Deacon James Monfort.

Antonio leaves to cherish his memories a devoted wife, Denise McCullough; one daughter, Antoinette McCullough and four sons, Antonio Howard, Corey McCullough, Antavious McCullough, and Andre McCullough; four grandchildren; Antonio (AJ) Howard, Peyton McCullough, Cameron McCullough, and Kaiyen Howard, three brothers, Michael McCullough (Catrina), James McCullough, Rufus Summeriour (Candice); four sisters, Ann McCullough, Tracey McCullough, Kim McCullough, and Denise Williams; two uncles, James Edward Kelly (Patricia), and Kevin Louis Kelly; three aunts, Betty Kelly, Shirley Ward, and Patricia Kelly; one Mother-in-Law, Mary Monfort, one additional sister-in-law, Shimeka Monfort; two brother-in-laws, Karl Leaks and Harry Lampley; and a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, and other relatives and friends.
