“ When you have CF, your care team is the family who chose you. They love you. They invest in your wellness and quality of life. They are real with you. They don't judge the ugly side of CF that we hide from the rest of the world. They comfort you like no one else can. They hold your hand when you get 15 PICC lines. They walk you to tests when you're terrified. They are ANGLES THAT WALK AMONG US.

Barbara Henry was an angel. She was an amazing, bright spirit. Always smiling, even when she had to deal with the shit stuff of the job like dealing with insurance companies, prior authorizations, grumpy patients and demanding doctors. She was funny, down to earth, selfless and the kindest person I think I've ever known. I will miss her so so terribly.

Ironically, a new CF drug received fast track approval this week that no one expected. I have no doubt in my mind that Barbara made this happen from above. I loved her and I feel honored to have known her. I also find some comfort in knowing that she will watch over me forever.

Rest in power beautiful beautiful being.
