“ I met Bonita through my oldest son. Then, he was into tennis shoes and told me of a lady who would take care of him while he waited in line for shoes. At that time Brandon was 14... he is now 27. We have remained in contact through the years and I have always had a special place in my heart for her and the genuine kindness she extended to my son.

Death is never an easy pill to swallow but I know that her servitude on this side of heaven secured her a home in one of His mansions. Her family has my sincere condolences and incessant prayers.
