

Charles Cole

February 22, 1936 - November 1, 2024

Charles Cole, "Charlie Boy", a devoted father, grandfather, esteemed master carpenter, and proud Army veteran, passed away peacefully on Friday, November 1, 2024. He was 88.

Born on Saturday, February 22, 1936, in the charming city of Savannah, GA, Charles was the beloved son of Marion Sanders Cole, who preceded him in death. Charles spent his formative years in Savannah, where he learned the values of hard work and dedication—qualities that would guide him throughout his remarkable life.

After serving honorably in the Army, Charles returned home to Georgia, where he dedicated his life to the craft he cherished. As a master carpenter, he left his mark through exquisite works that will stand the test of time. Charles's legacy can be seen in the homes and buildings he meticulously crafted, each one reflecting his uncompromising attention to detail and passion for excellence.

Charles cherished his life in Savannah where he built not just structures, but lasting relationships with friends, colleagues, and neighbors who came to admire his unwavering kindness, generosity, and integrity. His life was a testament to hard work, love, and service, and he will be dearly missed by all who knew him.

A Memorial Service celebrating Charles will be held on Saturday, November 16, 2024, 11 am, at Temple of Glory, 1105 Stiles Avenue, Savannah, GA 31415.

In the sorrow of parting, we find comfort in the memories we shared and the legacy he leaves behind. Rest peacefully, dear Charles.
