“ It was an honor to attend Charles' service and hear the love and legacy he leaves behind. Years ago, I went to grad school after staying home with my kids and working part-time. I was nervous for my first class --and afraid it would be all 22-year-olds. When I walked in to find my friend and fellow neighborhood volunteer and rabble-rouser, I knew it would be okay. It was full circle when we both earned a Master's this December. Love and light. - Beth Hogan

Charles Turner was such an enthusiastic person, so filled with life and information. He was a student of history and a maker of history. He participated in making change from the time he entered the scene and was a dear and loyal friend. We will miss him. Our warm thoughts to Beverly and the rest of the family
