

Clara Hester Victrum

August 2, 1933 - January 20, 2025

Clara Pauline Hester Victrum, 91, of Decatur, Georgia, died in the early morning of January 20th, 2025. Clara was born in South Boston, Virginia to Nannie Stokes Love and Garnett Hester. She passed peacefully at Piedmont Eastside Medical Center after complications of pneumonia and the flu. She was preceded in death by her husband, Sidney Victrum, her parents and her sister, Mary Boswell.

Clara worked at a sewing factory to support her family of three daughters. She was an excellent seamstress, and was also a caregiver. She loved reading the Bible, crocheting, music and dancing, fishing, cooking, and people, especially children. She was bold and blunt, but had a beautiful essence. She was known for saying, “You know one thing...”

She was baptized on July 9th, 1973 at the “Divine Victory” International Convention of Jehovah’s Witnesses at Yankee Stadium, Bronx, New York. She spent the remainder of her life praising Jehovah, and making his name known to all that would listen.

She is survived by her children, Lorraine Latimer (Reginald), Damita Jones (Jay), and Tanya Hester, her siblings Cecil Lewis Mitchell (Charles), Nannie Dixon, Charlie Love (Mariela), and Dorothy Robinson (George). She is also survived by 8 grandchildren, 7 great-grandchildren, 3 great-great-grandchildren, and many nieces, nephews and other relatives.

She was 'Mommy' to many even though she birthed a few. She will be greatly missed by her family and friends. We look forward to seeing her restored to perfection in paradise.

“ I have two distinct memories of this dear Sister. First, when I was much younger, I was a very picky eater. In particular, I had a big dislike for cornbread. One day, my mother dropped me off under her care, informing her of my avoidance of cornbread. Sister Hester told my mother, "Don't worry, he will eat it". She proceeded to make the cornbread in a circular pan, telling me it was cake. Not only did I eat it, to this day, I still eat cornbead.

The second instance is when my grandmother passed away. I remember this Slster tell me, "You have a grandma, I'll be your grandma ". This Slster cared about her physical and spiritual family. I look forward to seeing this Slster alive again , growing to perfection. So , I wont say goodbye, I say, see you later.
