“There is a time for everything, and a season for every activity under the heavens: a time to be born and a time to die, a time to plant and a time to uproot, a time to kill and a time to heal, a time to tear down and a time to build, a time to weep and a time to laugh, a time to mourn and a time to dance, a time to scatter stones and a time to gather them, a time to embrace and a time to refrain from embracing, a time to search and a time to give up, a time to keep and a time to throw away, a time to tear and a time to mend, a time to be silent and a time to speak, a time to love and a time to hate, a time for war and a time for peace.”

“My sweet sister, i can't even fathom the words to express how much i miss you and our regular phone calls to check upon you and the children. Your sweet charming smile and your bright bold eyes will always reminiscent in my mind and soul. Over the past few months when I call you i would never forget our conversation and what you said, " I am no longer a cancer survivor i am just living with cancer day by day", At that moment i started to prepare my mind mentally. However, no one ever come to term with the loss of losing a love one. The love of salvation and our heavenly father has helped me to put your transitioning into prospective of what the holy Bible states about death. I watched dad change and transformed during his time of battling with cancer. I know you were a fighter, especially for the sake of your lovely children. My love, god knows best and i hope you had made your last fews months and days right with your maker. Until we meet again in that beautiful place call heaven. Sleep on my beloved sister may god surround you with his loving arms and continue to keep you safe. Tell Dad, Uncle Tony, Grandma, Grandpa and all the rest who gone before us we still love and remember them. SIP

My condolences to you all. Claudine you had a smile that kept you going and an 👁 that was so beautiful for the world to behold. You had left the earth with such beauty. It will never be the same because another soul has left the earth. There is a rest for the people of God. Take your rest. I send blessings upon your love ones you had left behind.
