“ Clayton taught me early in my career how important it is to keep your side of the street clean. He was THE BEST!!!! Just one fond memory was when we worked in term gear and he got a broom to sweep up the cable trash we generated from one of the many cable runs we made over the years. I was young and not experienced. But I asked why he would bother to sweep up our mess when Turner pays people to do that work. A direct quote "Right now, I'm the highest paid custodian in the building." I learned a valuable lesson that day. Bless you Clayton. I love you more than you could ever know. What a great man.

“ To Kim, Kristina, and all the family, I am praying for God's peace for you all as you endure the loss of Clayton. While his footprints may disappear from the sand, his smile, his laughter, his essence remains with us. Clayton and I were classmates and roommates in College, but more importantly we were lifelong friends who were always close as you know. I hope and pray that you all are managing as best you can understanding these difficult times. I will see you both soon.

“ My condolences to the family. May God comfort & strengthen you.

I met Clayton thru my brother Jeffrey Green, when I moved to ATL in 1984. He had a heart of gold and was another older brother! His family became my family. Memories of bid whiz parties, bowling outings and fun days our group of family/friends shared since 1984 warms my heart.

Clayton had a smile that would light up a room and nothing made him smile more than being a father. You will be missed but never forgotten. Rest well bruh! 🕊️

Clayton was slow to speak but when he did, it was mighty passionate, sincere. His calm demeanor worked well in high pressure situation. He never panicked. His CNN FAMILY will miss him. He is forever loved.

“ Let me begin by offering the family my sincere prayer of strength and for God’s grace to show up in your lives.

It’s difficult to capture my memories of Clayton, AKA, “Tony!” That was the name his blood family called him. In 1982 when I met Clayton during the early days working at CNN2 we became fast friends, riding the bus all over Atlanta. Then, I was adopted into the Keen/Felder family. His aunt Maxine’s home was filled with love and laughter and I got the privilege to be present with Clayton. Clayton and I were Boyz! So many Bid Whiz parties...so many fight nights... so so many moments. Then marriage happened, then fatherhood happened. That is when he truly shined! He loved being a father.

Clayton was one of the smartest people I knew. He was a great person with a heart of gold. He will be missed, but his impact on our lives will never be forgotten. Rest in Heaven bruh! 🤝❤️

Thank you he was definitely the smartest person I knew as his daughter and he taught me so much I didn't even realize until later but I'm doing video and audio at church because of him and he was so proud! I'll continue to do that and more

“ To the family, my deepest sympathies. Although death and loss of life is always painful it's part of the cycle of life! I have known Clayton for over 50 years and like all the brothers that attended Claremont Men's College we developed a truly tight bond that still exist today. Clayton you were a blessing in my life from the day we met at college. You knew my family and you were one of my moms favorites. You were always there for me when I came to visit my daughters who were attending Emory and Spellman. You proudly took me all around your job at CNN and introduced me to ALL your coworkers. Clayton you were brilliant and treated all with a quite kindness. Thanks for your presence in my life. We will see each other again. Rest in peace!!!
