

Daneisha Chanae' Veal

October 28, 1989 - February 8, 2024

In the quiet repose of Duluth, GA the tapestry of life has folded for Daneisha Chanae' Veal, whose spirit took flight from the mortal coil on February 8, 2024. Born in the heart of autumn on October 28, 1989, in Atlanta, GA, her journey of 34 years was woven with threads of valor and unwavering spirit.

A fighter in essence, Daneisha's soul was a light with the fire of determination. She was a beacon of integrity, her life a testament to virtues of diligence and self-mastery. With each challenge, she rose like a phoenix, her confidence unshaken, her mindfulness quiet pool of reflection, her perseverance of a bastion against the storm.

Her scholastic odyssey began in the hallowed halls of Kanoeda Elementary, Sweetwater Middle School, continued in the sanctuaries of Home Schooling, and culminated within the proud walls of Berkmar High School.

Daneisha's professional path led her to the welcoming aisles of Publix, and the caring corridors of Northside Hospital where she served with dedication. In the spiritual haven of 12 Stone Church, she found fellowship and the echo of divine songs.

In the quiet moments, Daneisha was a scribe of life's fleeting beauty, her thoughts spilling onto journal pages, her eye capturing the world's ephemeral grace through the lens of her camera. Reading was her portal to other realms, where she danced with words and lived a thousand lives.

The legacy of her heart is carried forward in the lives of those she leaves behind: her mother, Daphne Treadwell; her grandmother, Martha Treadwell; her grandfathers: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Banks, James Mosley (late); her siblings, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Reed, Jr., A'yanna Langston, Steve Langston, Jr.; her great-aunts: Betty Williams, Daisy Benton, Katherine Benton, Carol Peeples, Linda Mosley-Jackson; uncle: Oscar Mosley; her grandparents: Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Veal, Sr.; her aunt: Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Walker (late Antonio Walker); her uncle: Mardell Veal, and a host of other siblings, aunts, uncles, family and friends. In the stars, she joins her father, Mark A. Veal, Jr., whose memory now dances with hers in the firmament.

Here, in the cradle of remembrance, we will bid farewell to a soul whose story is etched in the annals of our hearts.

Let us gather and weave our tributes into a garland of memory, honoring the vibrant spirit of Daneisha Chanae' Veal-daughter, sister, friend and indelible presence forever graced upon the canvas of time.

“ *Daneisha,
I am filled with so much emotion right now.
The only peace I have is knowing you are no longer in pain. You earned those angel wings. You are such a inspiration to so many around the world. Thank you for being my best friend. Thank you for always being there for me & believing in me when others didn't. You are such a ray of sunshine. Your beautiful smile lit up any room you walked in. You gave me so much hope in life. When I needed strength you said hold my hand I won't ever let you fall. You had a heart of gold that would help anyone along their own journey. I will miss our talks. I will miss our laughs. I will miss your hugs! I will miss everything about you... YOU MADE ME A BETTER PERSON. Your love was pure and true. I am honored to call you my best friend. I will miss you till the day after forever till I see you again. I love you sweet girl. May you soul finally rest. I will honor you by sharing your courage and strength and keep talking about you so that your memory will always stay alive. I love you. This isn't Goodbye it's just till I see you again. Hugs sweet girl. I love you so much. -Your Best Friend Jamie Greene*
