Debby was born January 14, 1954, in Bonaire, GA and joined the Air Force upon high school graduation. After the Air Force, Debby worked as a secretary at Robins AFB. Trips with her nieces and nephews to plays, musicals and movies were frequent and memorable. Her love of Six Flags and her comedic nature prompted several nieces to give her the nickname, "The Queen of Fun".

She is survived by her siblings, Phyllis Peavey of McDonough, GA, Joe Morris and Rebekah Wright of Bonaire, GA, Jesse Morris of Macon, GA, Rachel Farr of Forsyth, GA, Elizabeth Rice of Lawrenceville, GA, and Naomi Waterhouse of Opa, New

“ I was only 2 1/2 years older than Debby. As teenagers we took piano lessons for years. We had practiced a fast-paced classical duet, Debussy, Trepak for weeks. One day we came home from school and sat at the piano to play it, her on soprano, me on base. We aced it at the correct pace and got up from the piano on a wonderful feeling. She was very good on the piano.
