I met Debroah while attending Grape Street Elementary School in Los Angeles. Deborah Otis Foy was my sister's best friend and my first big sister. Deboah was smart talented and very compassionate about learning. I was not surprised when she graduated from high school as valedictorian and went on to attend Williams College. My sincere condolences sympathies to her husband and daughter as well as the Otis family.

“ I attended Williams College with Debbie and James. I remember both as being kind and caring to all those around them. To the Otis and Foy families, I'm sending prayers and love to help you through this most difficult time.
