Pastor John C. Lee, Jr.

Della B. White was born on August 29, 1947 to her late mother Ollie B. George Henderson and to her late father Clifford P. Henderson (William White) in Lexington, KY. She attended Dunbar High School and was a member of Greater Liberty Baptist Church in Lexington, KY. She was an outspoken and vibrant woman who was held back by nothing. She believed in enjoying life to its fullest. She lived in the D.C. and Atlanta areas for many years and thrived. While in Atlanta she became a member of New Birth Missionary Baptist Church. She was successful in all that she put her hand to due to her inner motivation.

Della had many hobbies and was well known for her cooking skills in a kitchen of any size. She had the ability to make all those who she came in contact with fall in love with her. She smiled like no other and laughed with a sound that came out of heaven from the mouths of angels. Her vibrant personality made her presence attractive and commanding. She never shied away from any setting and always commanded the room.

Della has graced many lives and we all were awed by her presence. Della leaves her only daughter and best friend Lisa D. Mealing, her loving siblings Gertrude Hill (James Hill), Charles F. White, Carl T. White and Joyce E. Parks, sister-in-law Jessica Henderson, nieces, nephews, cousins and friends to cherish the memories of her breathtaking smile, angelic laughter and fulfilled life. Her brothers James A. Hamilton and Clifford P. Henderson Jr. preceded her in death.

Della's favorite flower was the rose and just like the rose she blossomed in full beauty and elegance with a fragrance that we will never forget and we all were blessed to behold her beauty. Although her passing brings tears of sorrow we rejoice in knowing that her spirit has returned to the One she loved most. The One who gave her life and ordered her steps her Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

“ I am very sorry for you loss. Please accept my sincere sympathies.
Words cannot express the pain one feels when they've lost a loved one to death. 1 Corinthians 15:26 says, "As the last enemy, death is to be brought to nothing." Imagine death being completely destroyed in the near future. What about now? Now you can rest your trust in God's promise of a resurrection hope at John 5:28,29.
During this time, you may also find comfort in knowing just how pleasant life will be for us and our dear loved ones on God's Paradise new earth. (Revelation 21:4)

“ I wanted to express my condolences to the family and friends of Della. I know it's very hard to lose a loved one in death. But the Bible holds a hope for us that I thought you would be comforted by.
Its John 5:28, 29 - "Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out" I hope this helped you as much as it has helped me.

“ Ms. Della A beautiful spirit you were to me. I looked so forward to you beautiful smile every other day when we saw each. I so enjoyed the times we shared talking about life and Kentucky. You were a pleasure to my life with your quick wit. I truly love you and will miss you. But I take God for putting you in my life. Although you are gone a beautiful flower is now in God's Garden.

“ I offer sincere condolences to the family. May your faith in God's resurrection provision comfort and sustain you as you look ahead to the time when "all those in the memorial tombs will hear Jesus' voice and come out." ~John 5:28, 29
