“ Doris was my best friend. We started out as co-workers and for a while, before Covid-19, she was my lunch buddy! This lady would do anything for her family. She was definitely a devoted wife, mother, grandmother and great grandmother - always wanting to make life better for her children. Throughout her illnesses, she was always the strength for others. She never gave up on anything! She lived to make things better for others.

Her favorite color was purple -- power, ambition, never extravagant, creative, wise, prideful, independent, all magically wrapped up in dignity.

I will miss her and forever love her. My heart hurts but I realize that she has earned her wings!

I had the pleasure of working with Doris at Parsons for the last 6 years. I spent some time today re-reading a few of our IM exchanges over the last few years. Her IMs were often punctuated with "God is Good" while mine often said "Bless Her Heart". Together we made quite the pair.

While I will miss both her advice and encouragement, I think I will miss her laugh the most.

Rest easy Doris in the peaceful arms of our Lord.

“ Doris was more than just a co-worker, she was a friend, a confidant, a sounding board, and a person I knew would help me get any task accomplished. She was an inspiration and her faith always astounded me, no matter the obstacle ... she always said "God is Good!". I will dearly miss her and her amazing faith.

She loved her family and her job and her focus was always how to make the best of everything. She will forever be in my heart and mind and I will try to emulate her best qualities.

“Doris was the daughter of my favorite sister Charlotte. Also passed too young. I have to admit I didn't know Doris as an adult, separate ways kept us apart. What I do know is she was a strong lady. My sincerest sympathy to all her family. Rest peacefully.

“Our dad used to like to play a favorite song" I did it my way". Doris was like that too. Dad also died too early. She was my baby sister, but much braver than me. So sad she had such a difficult ending....not fair.
