Anthony was my spiritual brother. He and I worked together for years as musicians. When you look up the word "perfection" in the dictionary, his name and legacy should appear.....a true man of God and excellence is now in his heavenly home...still directing, teaching, encouraging... smiling. I love you my dear friend.

To the Stinson family, I feel your pain in the loss of your love one. I met Dr. Stinson when he was a musician at Mount Moriah Baptist Church. I sang in the gospel chorus and he played the piano. Always a professional and everything had to be done to profession. I will never forget Dr. Stinson and his smile and kindness every time I saw him. Just remember family when you think of him and his legacy and leaving you that he is in the hands of the Lord. May God be with you 🙏.

“ I had the pleasure of having Dr. STINSON at Clayton State and because of him not only did I understand the one subject I was bad at, but because of him I passes both his class because he was there to help day and night no matter what. You will truly be missed Dr.

“ I was a student of Mr. Stinson in the mid-80s at Henderson High. I was not enthusiastic about math but as was the case with so many of his students, he knew the right balance between pushing and encouraging me to do my best.

I didn't have a father figure at home and he provided the kind of patriarchal influence in the classroom that I needed at that time. Looking back, I am certain he knew I was searching for it based on how I immediately responded to his efforts.

Even after completing Geometry, I would visit Mr. Stinson after class several times during my sophomore, junior, and senior years. His perspective had a tremendous influence on my life and eventually, my family.

Late condolences to Mrs. Suzette and their sons.

“ I knew a very young and wonderful Dr. Stinson while at Henderson High School in the 80's. He was a passionate teacher and great human being. He was the Math teacher who gave me my light bulb moment for geometry. He not only cared but loved his students and we loved him. Funny, intelligent, approachable and committed to his charges. He was my favorite math teacher and one of the best men I have had the privilege of having in my crossed paths with in my life. My prayers go to his family. His was a beacon that shone bright from his heart, he will be sorely missed.

“Mr. Stinson was the first black male teacher I had and being that my dad wasn't formerly educated. He was my experience of a highly educated black man that demanded excellence out of his black students. I remember being distracted in his class and he pulled me aside to tell me how much he believed in me and how much I had to overcome. From then on I gave my all in his class and still love math to this day bc of him. He was so vibrant, full of personality and joy each time I saw him. Because we had the same last name ppl often mistaken me for his daughter or another relative . I was proud whenever that happened. He will be missed and his memorial live on with me and my husband forever.

“ Dr. Stinson was one of the best math teachers I've ever had in my entire schooling. He was very motivational. I still remember the day he told me, “I don't know what be going on in that brain of yours but it works.” As I was explaining how I arrived at an answer. He was so excited for me. He was truly a supportive teacher. Thank you for everything you instilled in me as I was going through my teacher program. You will truly be missed.

“ Mr. Stinson or affectionately called Stint-Dog by his math students at Stephenson High School was definitely a man that I'll never forget. For the class of 1998 he pushed all of us to be better people. He wanted us to want better and more for ourselves. He was one of the first men in my life outside of my dad that could raise his voice and at the same time let you know he cared. He was professional, taught the heck out of math, broke a couple of expo markers in frustration 😞, but that never deterred us from wanting to do everything we could to show him that we were eager and ready to learn and demonstrate proficiency in a skill. He wasn't shy about sharing that he was a man of God. He was a great example that I embody when I walk into my own classroom now.

To his family, my prayers are with you as I know this is not easy. God provides comfort in ways we cannot imagine. Mr. Stinson we will see you in paradise. ❤️👊

“ I met Dr. Stinson and his wife Suzette at the Antioch-Lithonia MBC where we all are members. He came up to me after service one Sunday and said I heard all your notes, Ms. Alto. After that day whenever he would see me, he would refer to me by that name. Once he joined our music department, I could immediately tell he was a skilled professional and a perfectionist. I wish we had gotten more time to spend with Dr. Stinson, but we know God does not make a mistake. I know Dr. Stinson is in element with the Heavenly Choir. We will continue to lift the Stinson family up in prayer.

Once we returned to in-person Worship, Dr. Stinson joined our music department and immediately, his light was so bright, that we knew we had greatness among us. His humility and great smile drew you to him. He was to accompany us to Carnegie Hall last year. He taught the tenor section their parts for the concert that was held on November 27, 2023. We all are saddened to hear of his passing. He's left an indelible mark on us. We will continue to lift the family up in prayer as we continue on this journey to see what the end will be. “ I worked with Anthony at CSU and I just can't express all that he was to me. He approached everything with kindness - right up front. There was absolutely no question where his heart was. I looked up to him for so many reasons. Of course he was a complete professional, but I also knew he was a great husband and father - it was all so clear. I could always count on a quick call after an extra long faculty meeting to laugh and poke fun at the personalities on display. He was never boastful or a "show stealer"...but he was...in the quietest, kindest way. I will miss you my dear friend. You have left a mark on me and I hope that I can take what I've learned from you and make it an effortless part of me. Thank you to Suzette and your family for sharing this great man. I wish you peace.

To Suzette and family. My deepest condolences to you all. Sorry I couldn't be here to express my personal condolences.

I first meet Anthony, well Stinson, as I called him at Stephenson High School where he served as my mathematics department chair. I was a newbie to teaching and this was my second year teaching. I had been transferred from Columbia High School based on the need for more teachers to meet the student capacity at Stephenson. I was nervous and overwhelmed but God saw it fit to place my classroom directly across from Stinson. He took me under his wings and went on to be a wonderful mentor, and not to mention my little "gossip" buddy (lol). I put that in quotes because don't get it twisted Stinson was about his business but his sense of humor and wit always shined through. He was so witty and fun, and hands down one of the most brilliant mathematicians I know.

And oh Let's not talk about his pen-manship, his writing was impeccable. I can't tell you how many algebra and calculus problems he worked out for me and they look like a letter from Martha Stewart. Oh I can't tell you how many phone calls and visits I made to his classroom to work through math problems that continued even after he left Stephenson.

Stinson goes on to be one of my biggest cheerleaders and advocates professionally, as well. He recommended me to be his replacement as Department Chair and remained an important confidant and mentor even after he left.

In fact, I know that he was instrumental in my hiring here at Clayton State University. With the recommendation letter he wrote on my behalf...heck I would have hired me. Lol.

But anyway I could go on and on about my love and admiration for my buddy, so family please know that he was loved and adored by so many and I am truly blessed that God so it fit for me to be that lucky little girl across the hall from him at 701 Stephenson Road

“ *EXCEPTIONAL, INSPIRATIONAL! I am so grateful for Dr. Anthony Stinson and his 360 degree impact on my life. He was bright light that set the standard, and showed us he believed in us to achieve it. About 40 years ago I was an 8th grader seated in what would be my first math class with him as my math teacher at Henderson High School. To this day I have an appreciation for and understanding of math because of him. What he taught me didn't all come to me right away. Some of it quite frankly clicked like a puzzle coming together years later in college. He made the difference because he was always genuinely plugged in. Thank you Dr. Anthony Stinson. As an educator, Dr. Stinson possessed an unwavering dedication to and for his students, even (and perhaps especially) those that would have otherwise fallen through the cracks. He was passionate about his work, yet he possessed a dignified humility that is so often absent among those in higher education.
