“ Shirley I just heard about Eric and Sherrill passing I know there is nothing anyone can say that would truly comfort u in this time of loss of your first born only son . I cannot say I understand your loss . It would take me to lose a child in order for me to truly feel your pain your loss . And all those that are sending words of comfort and asking u if ur in need of anything , let that continue it takes time to heal from greif i know I've experienced fried for 11 years but being ur son you will always miss his presence love you shirley

“ Eric you are my handsome and precious love of my life, my first born and my only son of my 3 children. Eric I am so heart broken and miss you so very much baby. You brought so much love and joy to my life, especially with you being my 17th birthday present with your presence. God blessed me with the most talented, artistic and so very wise and funny son. Not to mention how we had raised each other. Eric you have been my son, father, brother, and my best friend all in one handsome human body. I thank you my love that I could share all my deepest secrets with. Your sisters Toi and Sharree couldn't of asked for a better brother. I prayed for you to have no more pain and now you have no more pain my baby and you're in God's arms. There nothing like losing a child and especially you my baby, I'll never be the same without you, you gave me my name Mommy and Ma first. There's no love thats compares to a mother's love its priceless and unconditional. I so very blessed that you chose ne to be your Mother. You can rest now Eric my first and last true love. I will remember everything you told and taught me in your 51 years my sweet and kind spirited son. You were favored and annoited by God in your life. You said Ma I'm not afraid Ive made peace and you said your mission was done. Thank you God for my forever blessing my "SON" Eric V. Parm li

“ May, I was so sad to hear about the passing of Eric. He always had a smile on his face and was fun to be around whenever I would see the two of you at alumni events. I know it is hard to say goodbye to him but try to remember all the wonderful times you shared and how much he loves you and the family dearly. Know that he is no longer in pain and will be watching over you. I pray that God’s strength, comfort, and everlasting peace get you through today and the days to come. Rest In Peace, Eric.

“ It is with heavy hearts that we share the passing of Eric Parmis, a beloved husband, father, and friend. Eric was a dedicated warehouse driver at Batchelor & Kimball, known for his strong work ethic, positive attitude, and kind nature. He always had a smile on his face and a willingness to lend a hand to those around him. Eric’s warmth and generosity touched everyone he met.

Last year, Eric was diagnosed with a large tumor on his leg, and despite undergoing treatment, the cancer continued to spread. Throughout his battle, Eric remained resilient, never letting the disease overshadow his spirit.

Eric was happily married to his loving wife, May, and together, they created a blended family filled with love and support. May and their children, along with all those who knew Eric, are devastated by his loss.

Eric's life was a testament to kindness, strength, and the importance of family.

*Rest in peace, Eric. You will be deeply missed.
Your work family,
Batchelor & Kimball*

“ You can never prep or prepare yourself enough for the loss of a loved one. No words can be said. No actions can be done to take away the pain. Monday my heart was shattered as we took my husband Eric V. Parmis off his ventilator. I take comfort in knowing he is no longer in pain. No more treatments nor tests. You can rest easy in God's hands Bae.

I know you are watching over me telling me that it's going to be ok. I will forever love you and appreciate all the wisdom you had to offer. You touched so many people and made connections wherever you would go. Such a kind and gentle soul. You had no limits to the things you would do for your family and we thank you for that. This is not a goodbye, but a, I'll see you later. Save me a space right next to you so we can live out eternity together. I love you with all my heart.

Your loving wife
May Parmis
