“ To the Endsley family,

Sending prayers and positive energy your way during this most difficult time. Ernie and I grew up literally together being the same age and as neighbors. I will miss the fun and friendly conversations we had about our beloved Atlanta Falcons. I will miss him throwing a hand up as we often saw each other in passing while I visited my parents, but most of all I will miss that enduring and infectious smile. You were taken away far too soon and you will be missed. Endsley family keep the faith and know that I am only a phone call away.

Peace & Blessings

“ Ernest , you were more like a little brother to than you were being my cousin . One thing that I've always enjoyed was our talking about the Falcons or the Hawks whenever you would drop by Hooters on your way back from the games , you always come up to me with a big smile on your face with your Falcons gear on (Michael Vick jersey or Deion Sanders) or your Hawks gear and you have this great big smile on your face and you would always greet me with great big bear hug and say What's Up Cuz ! My sporting life just won't be the same you there to talk about our teams . I will always treasure the good times that we had . Rest In Peace Cuz , I hope to see you on the other side someday and to see that big smile of your again .

“ Ernest...I will never forget you or your smile. Your smile was youthful and warm, the kind that invited people in. I appreciated your friendliness, and the fact that you were both a nerd and a geek! Ha! It was always a pleasure to see you and your kind presence. I pray you are in the bliss that only heaven and our Heavenly Father can provide. May The God of comfort hold your family and loved ones during this time, and always.

You were like my little brother, you would say don't call me that, but I did it anyway lol. There are so many stories I could tell.. but the one I will leave here is one of love, respect, comrades we became over the years. This hurts so bad!! Rest easy my friend a.k.a little brother.. love you Ernesto!

“ King thank you for the privilege of your brotherhood, as I'm writing this I'm remembering all the times we laughed, the thought provoking conversations and many times I couldn't quite seem to beat you in pool. I'll miss that. The good thing is that , although you're no longer here. You're hear. 🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏🙏

“ My first real conversation with Ernest was about football, he told me that he was related to John Stallworth.
Ernest loved his Falcons but had a little love for Steelers.
We had been cool ever since.
The other deep conversation was about Teneshia.
That’s a memory I’ll keep to myself, let’s just say he and I had VERY similar taste in women.
I’ll miss his smile, positive words, loved how he quietly walked away from conversations that he didn’t agree with. In his words “didn’t give time for foolishness “.
I’ll think of him every time I see someone walking around with a to go cup.
Ernest loved his family, loved his friends.
I’m proud to be able to call him both

“ Ernest and I met each other through a football pool I administered for a collection of Atl downtown worker’s and friends that was centralized at Gibney’s Pub. He started as just a name on a sheet. We then started having actual interactions and through time we became friends. There were a few times that Ernest came extremely close to winning, but due to a tie-breaker situation, he wouldn’t. Not that I rooted for any participants, especially since I participated myself, but I was happy when about 2 1/2 years into playing Ernest did finally win a week! Ernest had a competitive spirit. It showed in our football pool and also in the actual game of pool, which was played many an evening. I had a very brief opportunity to work with him. He was always helpful and when of a mind to, was on point.

Ernest had a zest for life, and he has been taken much too soon!
