“ I just learned of your passing yesterday and I am still struggling to find the words to describe my grief. For others who are reading this, I am one of the countless people whose lives were touched and then transformed by the incredible way Faith helped us find our way out of some of the darkest moments in our lives.

Faith, what began as a simple ask to help me through a "rough patch" in my relationship with a boyfriend (the IDIOT who of course is now an ex) who had cheated on me evolved into a decade of consistent, rock solid advice that you always provided me. You guided me, challenged me, reassured me, supported me and above all else, you always reminded me to "give yourself some grace, you are enough."

I am so incredibly blessed to have known you and to be welcomed into the aura of joy and peace that you surrounded yourself in everyday. I will miss you and our talks... thank you for being there for me, thank you for all that you meant to so many who are grieving your passing right now.

*My last request: now that you are among the heavens, please go find my dad and hug him for me - let him know how much I miss him and how much you helped me deal with his passing. I love you both.

Dr. Faith Troupe was very rude and disrespectful at times. Sorry to hear of her passing but I did not care for her during her time spent on earth

“ Dr. Troupe Dr. Troupe Dr. Troupe!! Man this professor was tough you hear me. But I understand why. When she saw potential in you, she was hard on you for that particular reason and I can be a true witness today on that. When it came down to it she made sure I was on my A game. As a psychology major back in undergrad I appreciated everything she did for me and she was cool underneath that hard steel she had when it came down to her teaching. She did not play especially if you were late to her class. I was upset when she left my last semester of undergrad but I know she was at a better place. And now she is at a even better place. You will always be remembered Dr. Troupe. And I definitely thank you for pushing me in college. Rest in Paradise 🕊️🕊️

“ I remember when I first met Dr. Troupe I was intimidated by her because she didn't play any games. I later realized that she expected excellence in her students because that's what she saw in us. I never got to thank her for those tough conversations that made me cry, but she showed me how to use my tears as fuel and soar even higher! She will definitely be missed 🙏

“ Dr. Troupe was a tough strong educated black woman that expected the best from her students, especially me. She knew I had the potential to be great and exceed in her course. Dr. Troupe challenged me and I am forever grateful for her. Rest easy Dr. Troupe!!!
