Fitzgerald "Arthur" Thompson, better known as Tommy or Uncle, died on September 14, 2018 in Covington, GA. He was 86.

On November 30, 1931, in Bridgetown, Barbados, Mr. Thompson was born to Rosey Thompson and Mr. Wilshire. After completing secondary school, he pursued a career as a tailor, carpenter but finally settled on being an auto body repair man. Upon moving to St. Thomas, US Virgin Islands, Tommy married Ruscilia Remy in 1974 and together they raised four children, 3 girls and 1 boy. After his health began to decline, he left St. Thomas for Covington, GA in 2006. The following year, he would have triple heart bypass surgery, which proved successful because it gave him over 10 additional years of life.

Fitzgerald was a patient, kind-hearted, caring and jovial man. He was compassionate and supportive of so many, both young and old. There is no denying his quiet strength and jovial personality contributed to the life-long friends he made over the years. Those closest to his circle inherited a personalized nickname that he would give them, such as Pocahontas, Susan or Bald Head. Tommy will be remembered for his cuisine, especially his souse with cucumber salad, stew turkey and corned beef and rice.

Mr. Thompson is survived by his wife Ruscilia Thompson, son Carlyle Remy Sr., daughters Kimberly Thompson and Heather Thompson Johnson (Adam Johnson). As well as his two grandchildren Carlyle Remy Jr. and Lauren Bailee Johnson.

As we celebrate the life of Fitzgerald Arthur Thompson, he would want us to enjoy the years we have remaining on earth. He accepted Jesus as his Savior and always told his girls, he would see them again at the pearly gates.
