“ Nana you were simply the best! You taught me songs, bible verses, and how to kneel and pray. My Mom said you made my dress for her wedding! I was 2 years old. I saw the picture and it was pretty. You made my uniform skirts, and various costumes. Over the years. You were patient and soft spoken. You never scolded or spanked but you got me to behave. I will remember you until I can't. I will love you always. Rest in blessed peace . Nicky

“ Miss Florie (Nana) came into our lives a little over 27 years ago and our family has not been the same since (praise GOD). She was humble, patient, gracious and godly. When Nana was around you wanted to be better and we were! Over the years we learned about clean foods and Sabbath keeping. You were sent to us for a reason! You answered so many questions for me: why you guys don't have any statues in your church not even a crucifix and forget about the VirginMary! Miss Florie when do you go to confession, Miss Florie no one genuflects at your church, no one makes the sign of the cross here! And on and on! Miss Florie taught me about graven images and Christ being the mediator and on and on always going to her little worn out Bible. She taught us how to pray. I developed a thirst for more of the Truth and boy did she share! The seed was planted and MANY years later I surrendered my life to the LORD! Miss Florie you taught me the Hail Mary was just part of a conversation between 2 pregnant women, Elizabeth and Mary, you even found it in the Bible for me! I borrow part of it now to say Nana Florie “you are blessed among women”. Take your a. We will meet on that beautiful shore!

Missing my last aunt on my late mothers side, all that's left is great memories of my childhood, riding my bike the 7 miles from Georgetown to Plaesance with a note from my mom to her little sister.

Years and distance separated our families, however, memories are all we have to cling too, now heartache are the friend we are talking too now you'll never know how much we've loved you but we can only thing about the great times and things we use to do.. Miss. you aunt Flo.. Rest on my aunt, see you at sunrise.

My condolences go out to sister and special friend Ann Fraser on the passing of your dear Mom. She was very special to me and I recall the good times we shared on the GPS prayer line. We also shared happy times at the seniors table for lunch in the fellowship hall at mountainside. Sleep on dear sister for the next voice you hear will be the Savior you waited so long to see.
