“ To the family of Mrs. Frances Flakes
Sending My heartfelt and sincere condolences to you as you celebrate the life of this phenomenal woman!
I knew her as a supportive and caring parent to one of her sons through his middle and high school years.
Mrs. Flakes was that parent who was visibly involved in his education. She was always there for parent/teacher conferences to show her interest and support. She was at school board meetings to voice her opinion about the best practices available for her son’s education.
So today it can be said.... To God Be The Glory, Mother Frances lived to see the benefits of her persistence and unconditional love. God rest her soul.
So ... Jay and family, again, I pray that you will find some comfort in knowing the impact your mother left on others as well; especially your high school teachers and peers... It is my prayer that you will keep her in your heart and always remember how very much she loved you❤️
