“Sell, sell that is the last nickname she gave me. Why because I was buying items that I will take back home to Grenada and sell. We shared so many fun, adventurous, serious and kitchen times. Oh how I miss her. I went to each and every appointment with her once I was there. I even questioned the doctors and listened to their advice that I reinforced to her. Gemma was a dancer who put on the old soca music and we “broke it down”. Her smile was contagious. Her mathematical skills were so good it made me teacher Lydia shake my head. Oh how I will miss our trips to buy groceries and other items. It was indeed a joyous time. I can write so much more but I will stop here. Sleep in peace my dear friend. From Beverly with love.”
