“ I'm a Park Atl Shuttle Bus Driver. Mr. George rode with me on numerous occasions to take him to work and take him back to his car after work.. I will always remember how he would make me laugh about something. He was a very generous & gentleman. 😭. I will truly miss seeing him. I just found out today. 1/23/23. RIP Mr. George 😭

“ My cousin, Emory had a heart filled with love. He was always, always “on chill”... welcoming, warm and humorous, to be sure. His spirit made you feel like you were at home, no matter where you actually were. Never a ruffled feather, never an angry word... just as smooooooth... I miss you already, Cuz. You will never be forgotten.

To Wyeucia and family, the journey of life continues without the fixed presence of Emory. Nevertheless, the sweet lifetime memories experienced with Emory, now become so over whelmingly precious, appreciative and a beacon. It is my prayer, these memories you and the family have comfort and strength going forward.

A LIFE WELL LIVE EMORY!

“ There are so many positive adjectives to describe my dad, affectionately known "Emme" for the past 15 years. He always encouraged and supported me every time I stepped out on faith, and for that I am thankful. This girl dad was so proud of us and our vastly different talents. The past month has consumed us with worry, but that time frame allowed us to discover so many traits about you that we will cherish forever. Miquelle, Pelita, and I are going to be just fine because you are in a better, peaceful place.

Until we meet again,

Maria Ridley ❤️

“ *The retrospect of knowing someone for more than 60 years has so many memories. Now, only to realize that our timeless journey was more than half of our lives and has come to an end. Our three daughters and grandchildren can best acknowledge the greatness of their father but we always acknowledged that our daughters were the best part of our blessed journey together. Now, the time is upon us to bid Emory adieu, and remember that his loving spirit will always be with us; especially his many antics, communicable smiles, and talkative gifts.
May the peace from a power greater than we are, sustain and be with us,*

Love always,

Wyeuca and family
