“ It's Chan Blue and the girls; Brina, Starr and Abigail Tucker. You made my wedding dress 1994 and since then, you've been GiGi. Some years had went by and we had spoken, but my ex-husband came to see you and call me from your house on FaceTime and I immediately came to the house the following week! We left off like we had been seeing each other and talking over the years because that's just how loving and such a warm spirit that you are. I Love you like family! Rest well in Jesus❤️!

“ I have been trying to find the right words to say since I found out about Gigi's passing but the truth of the matter is there isn't enough words to describe how impactful she was to so many people. I met Gigi only a few years ago while working on The Wonder Years S2 in Stone Mountain. I Picked her up and dropped her off almost every single day. In the days leading up to meeting her I was honestly a little nervous to pick someone up and drop them off without really knowing them but after day one I knew that I was meant to meet her and have that time with her. We got to know each other fairly quickly and soon developed a lovely relationship. The highlight of my day everyday was the 40 minutes to an hour I got to spend with her in the car. She was so wise, funny, and truly authentic to herself. I cherish all those morning and evenings driving her around and getting the special opportunity to hear about her life and loved ones. After the show ended we kept in touch regularly and she even visited my grandmother down in Savannah while on a trip to visit her sister. Even that small moment she spent with my grandma impacted her and my family. To know Gigi was to love her. She had a loving and wild spirit. The last time I spoke to her she told me she had gotten sick and told me not to worry about her and that she would get better. I now know she was trying to protect me and the memories we had created together. She asked me to never forget about her and I do not think I ever could. I will carry her with me always. I just know she has been reunited with her love and they are dancing together once again. Thank you Gigi for all you have done for me in the short few years we knew each other. Love, Your Vanilla Granddaughter.
