“ Man I still in disbelief... I need to know what happened to u .. I can't seen to find out anything. Me and u got history.. . All that riding around hanging out.. we had somw times... i know it's been some years but I been trying and trying to reach out to folks...no one has responded to me... One thing for sure I know you are in peace. U will be proudof me right now.... I made so many changes in my life... Good one for sure.... we always said we was related because when I met u I didn't know anyone in Atlanta then I happened to meet with the same last name as mine what was the odds of that.. so we was family no matter what... I love u bro.. until we meet again

“ When our loved ones fall asleep in death, our hearts become heavy with grief and sadness. The Bible offers us words of comfort. Hosea 13:14 says; From the power of the grave I (God) will redeem them; From death I will recover them. May you also find comfort in the words found at Psalm 147:3 which says; He (God) heals the brokenhearted; He binds up their wounds. These scriptures can help you cope with the sadness and grief now and in the days ahead.

“ To our family we will get thru this seemingly hard time. Our cousin is at peace now. God's to wise to make a mistake. Joy will come for us.
