“ I had the awesome privilege of growing up on the same street as Henry (affectionately known in the neighborhood as Brother Furr). We younger children looked up to him as a very good role model. He and his bother, Marion, were well respected and as I grew older I could see that their destinies would be defined by the young men they turned out to be. The last time I saw Henry was when his mom passed away, so that has been some years, but I often thought about him and Marion and the old neighborhood. You have my deepest sympathy. May the Litd continue to bless and console you.

“ I was blessed to live several years directly across the street from Henry, Lil and Canissia. This blessed model family were admired and respected by the entire neighborhood. They had the best kept lawn and flowers in our community. I am so grateful that our paths crossed. My sincere love, sympathy and best wishes to each of you. Please be confident that your godly behavior was seen and appreciated by many.

Highest respect,
