“ Ms. Ingrid is my mom's best friend. I became close with her because she is the sweetest person. I always heard her voice on speakerphone with my mother. They both made sure to check on each other daily. It's crazy cause I can still hear her voice in my head. We all miss you like crazy, Ms Ingrid. Please watch over all of us as you fly high.

Sending our love and condolences

Earth loss is heaven gain. You made me love you as the 6th daughter. You were always there for me. I thank God for the time he lent you to me. we shared the joy and love of mother and daughter and that was a wonderful gift. I will always treasure your caring ways towards me. I will always remember the Friday evening we spent together before the call. If I had known you were going then I would still be sitting there. Words can't express the hurt. I love but Jesus loves you best so sleep and take your rest.

“You have changed my life forever! There will never be a day that you are not remembered in my life. I appreciated all the sisterly conversations and laughter we shared every day. You just always knew what to say on my toughest day. Everyone is missing you so much right now! This is hard for me to gather my thoughts right at this moment. I love you so much, Ingrid! I will continue to pray for your family and friends.

“Friendship transcends death. Memories made will never be forgotten and created a lasting impression on those they left behind. Everyone became a better person for having such a wonderful friend. The best of friends know that they were loved for who they were in life and will be remembered for their heart in their death. Love you Ingrid
