“ Upon hearing the news of my friend passing, life stood still. I was in total shock and disbelief. I thank God for allowing our paths to cross and for the many years we worked and served in ministry together. Most of all I thank God for the friendship and the many times of laughter and talks we shared. I'm going to miss you; I wish I could hear your voice one more time. Take your rest my friend. Thanks for the memories and special time of bonding we shared in the 90s. You are and always will be a special friend and its painful to say goodbye. To Pat and the family, Michelle and I, extends our condolences and prayers. May God continue to fill the void in your heart with his Love and Care; weeping may endure for a night but Joy cometh in the Morning. We love you.

Deacon Isaac Sullivant, much love from your friend Jerome.

“ My Dear Pat,

Words can not express my deepest sympathy for your loss. Our family's prayers are with you during this very difficult time. I can't help but reflect on the many conversations we had about our husbands. Your Dan and his love for your cooking, his attentive protection and his antics at times. What joy, what laughter we shared. My heart celebrates the rich gift of your life together. Perhaps the memories will serve as a small comfort of sorts. I know you won't be able to completely and consciously lean back on God's great big arms for a while but know that His arms are there holding you up. His love will also come through us who love you. I'm here. I send God's love, His comfort, and even His joy to the depths of your soul.

“ I have heard SO Much about Mr. Dan over the years that I worked with Mrs. Patricia. I finally had the opportunity to meet him in person as he so patiently helped her load her things at a training we attended this past January. I also had the opportunity to chat with him again at the retirement party. I pray God's peace upon Pat and the entire family during this time of bereavement.

“ Our Dearest Pat,

Lina and I are thinking of you and Isaac as we extend our deepest and most heartfelt condolences during this time of change and need.

As you know, Isaac was a personal friend and an inspiration to both of us ... as well as countless others.

Personally, I enjoyed his company, friendship, and fellowship immensely. Professionally, I am going to miss his quiet, witty, and insightful mentorship.

I will always treasure our previous dinner-outing where Isaac and I kept reminiscing on our military days like two soldiers on the back of a 5-ton truck. I am truly going to miss that connection. His was a good soldier, a dear friend, and a great man.

As the weariness of these days wear away, rest assured that our hearts remain connected to yours and we share your sorrow. We also share your resolve to address this unexpected calling.

To that end, we are standing by and we are available to assist in any way possible.

Simply let us know what you need.

With our virtual hugs, unyielding support, and eternal love.

“ Issac I love you so very much. Why did you have to leave me? I don't know. I don't understand. God must have a bigger plan for you. Instead of protecting me on this earth, you'll be with me in my heart and spirit always.

I know he was a man truly in your corner. No matter which way you went you had his support. I hope your memories will keep you motivated to remain the cheerful encouraging person we know you to be. To be the ball of fire determined to live life that he loved. As your friend, I have to step up and be there when you need me. Please reach out when I am hesitant. You have a village to walk through this pain and suffering with you. We love you, we cry with you.
