“ Jael Jael

There are so many things I could say about you over the years. I believe we have known each other for about 17 years since I first met you.

First, I would like to get my condolences to the family. To her mom- No one wants to lose a child. I feel for you as a mother myself. I want to thank you for your kindness over the years. You were her rock and always there for her.

Jael loved her family and always talked about her family or herself. She loved going places with her mom or doing things with her family. She may fuss or be tired but knew she had to be there for her family like you are for her- She would say this. Jael was a very special person who had a very caring heart. She was very smart and she helped me educate patients over the years.

I loved her not only as my patient for many years, but also as a dear friend. You see her visits would be 1hr or longer because after the medical stuff is out the way, we are sharing stories, looking at each other pictures, laughter to serious conversations. I truly enjoyed our conversations monthly and the appointments with the doctor. I have invited her to lunch and we enjoyed our conversations together. You will sometimes bring food like pulposa- yummy like her dad for us to eat. Through our talks, she brought purpose and perspective as well as her love for GOD. In these pass month, she talked about being at peace with life and accepting whatever may come.

You see, I would have never thought this day would come. I would have never wanted this day to come. You are so young and full of life, but God wanted you back in his arms. You have expressed that you were ready and basically told me to face reality. Who knew that the last time I saw you early this month would be my last time seeing you. You came in bright with a smile and a story to share. I was telling you how good you were doing. If I knew that was the last day, I would have gave you the biggest hug. Even though I am deeply saddened, I will find comfort in knowing that you were ready for when the day will come from the conversations and at peace. I want to thank you Jael for making my day bright when you come in to see me. You will be missed
