“ Dear Kesia, Matthew, Christian and Joshua, and the Gatewood Family,

My heart aches to hear the news of James' passing. James was a gentle soul and I am happy and proud to have had an opportunity to know him as a friend while at SMU.

Take comfort in knowing that he was loved and made an indelible impression on everyone he met over his life.

My deepest condolences to you and your family. I wish that you can find comfort knowing that James was able to create loving memories with the people who had the pleasure to cross his path.

I met this man of God when I opened my elect Pam Brown campaign account in March. I learned that he loved God, his family and his community all within an hour of our brief meeting. Your husband, father and son will be missed. May you find strength in his love for you all.
