“ My dad loved to talk and share wisdom and laughter. We enjoyed exploring God’s word early on. Our children as little children and his youngest great granddaughter, were amused by grandpa’s amazing moveable teeth. The Bible stories my dad would share with me as a child, formed a query of information about the wonders of this AWESOME, MAJESTIC LIBERATING KING Named JESUS CHRIST. Life happens and people will fail you. The question I’d always ask my dad is, “Do you know that I love you?” He would answer, “Yes, and I love you too, Gina. You my little baby.” Those are the last words my dad said in his house to me. My last words to my dad before I left the hospital was, “Daddy, I won’t ever see you again after today, I love you daddy.” Even though life changes and people fail, I use to tell my daddy when he was in the hospital and prayed for him, GOD NEVER FAILS. I loved my dad very much.
