“ I miss you soooooo much grandma I will never ever forget the memories we made together, this feels so unreal you're supposed to be here, when I imagine you, I imagine you sitting on your bed and smiling while telling your stories of your childhood and I know you're in a better place now but I can't help but to feel a little jealous because you were the one person I ran to with my all my personal problems or how I felt about something or just to talk about literally nothing 😭 I love you so much and I can't wait until we meet again.
