

Jeffrey Reynard Jordan

November 20, 1967 - November 21, 2024

We are deeply saddened to share the passing of Jeffrey R. Jordan on November 21, 2024.

He was the cherished son of the late Sandra Jordan-Ingram and Robert Murphy Sr., and is survived by his loving family members and close personal friends who will miss him dearly.

All Services Will Be Private.

We ask that you continue to keep us in your thoughts and prayers during this difficult time.

In lieu of flowers the family request donations to be made in Jeff's honor to the Wounded Warrior Project.

Services entrusted to Gregory B. Levett & Sons Funeral Home, South Dekalb Chapel, 4347 Flat Shoals Parkway, Decatur, GA 30034.

“ I remember being in China with Jeff and he started arguing with some Chinese law enforcement official. I scrambled to make sure I had the phone number of the US Embassy because I was sure we were going to find ourselves in jail. But he worked out that special "Jeff Jordan Magic" and we got away with it.

Not long afterwards we connected on a detail in India. Standing outside of a chai wallah.....exhausted and jet lagged.....I made some remarks of a nature "that decorum prevents listing them here" and Jeff threw an arm over my shoulder and doubled over laughing.

That laugh. That Jeff Jordan laugh. I can hear it now. Some of you can hear it too and are smiling.

I won't claim to be a good person. But I am a better person because of Jeff.

We stayed in touch and kept the faith and conversations usually ended "love you, brother."

To his family, I give my deepest condolences and sympathy,,, and this blessing:

"May God grant to the living--grace,
To the departed--rest,
To the Church and world--peace and concord,
And to us sinners--eternal life."

Love you, my brother.

“ Jeff was a true gem, was always smiling and sharing so much love. He recently reacquainted with me since our separation from Dear Ole KC, and it was like we NEVER MISSED a beat. I thoroughly enjoyed the phone conversation we had in the last year up until the Lord called him home. Thank you my Dearest friend “Re Re”....you surely knew how to make a friend feel loved. Rest Well brother, until we meet again. 🍷❤️🕊️

“ Jeff and I worked together at Geo. He would come out to help my site when we were understaffed for two weeks at a time in South Dakota. He talked about retiring here. Everyone here got attached to Jeff.

He became like a brother to me. He met my spouse, my sister, parents and girls. He even attended one of their birthday parties when he was in town. He met my friends, and referred to one of them as his future wife! We went and ate at great restaurants and had delicious Old Fashions at his favorite hotel.

We talked often. And I was crushed when I heard of his passing. I will always remember his friendship and the joy he brought to the people he met. One of the truest hearts I've ever met.

“ Jeff wasn’t just one of my dad’s best friends; to my older brother and me, he was family. He was “Uncle Super J,” the nickname he wore with pride, and he gave us our own—“Slick-Nick” and “Robby-Chipper-Jones-Cucchi.” Jeff had been a constant presence in our lives for as long as I can remember, a larger-than-life figure who brought joy, laughter, and wisdom every time he walked through our door.

He was there from the very beginning, even when my parents first met. In so many ways, Jeff helped shape the story of our family. He wasn’t just a friend to my dad; he was a brother, a confidant, and a steadfast part of every chapter of our lives.

There was never a dull moment when Super J was around. He had this incredible ability to make us laugh until our sides hurt while somehow sneaking in little nuggets of life advice that stuck with us long after. His kindness and generosity seemed to have no limits. I’ll never forget the Christmas Eve dinners he spent with our family, sitting at the table like he belonged there because, in truth, he did. One year, he surprised my brother and me with our very first iTouches for Christmas. That was Jeff—always thoughtful, always going out of his way to make sure we felt cared for.

He had a gentle soul, a genuine heart, and a way of making you feel like you were the most important person in the world. Jeff reminded us often how much he loved us, and those words weren’t just said—they were felt in every hug, every laugh, and every shared moment.

It’s hard to imagine a world without him in it, and the thought of never hearing his laugh or seeing his smile again breaks my heart. Our home, the Cucchi house, will forever feel a little emptier without him gracing it with his warmth.

Heaven truly gained one of its finest souls, and though we’ll miss him terribly, I find comfort knowing he’s up there, probably making the angels laugh, just like he did with us. Rest easy, Uncle Super J.

Thank you for being a part of our family's story—you'll forever be in our hearts.

“ Jeff was a great friend! We are coworkers also, but would talk about every other day. We would put Jeff on speaker and he would talk to me and my wife about life, how our dogs were, what we were all up to, and what whiskeys we found to share with him. He truly was the best! Love you my brother

“ I have struggled with what to write and say about Jeff because words seem so insufficient to capture the depth of his impact. Jeff was more than a friend; he was family and an integral part of so many cherished memories.

Our journeys together—Palm Springs, Dallas, Memphis, Seattle, the Cayman Islands, Atlanta, New Orleans, Biloxi, Mobile, the unforgettable experiences of Grambling State University’s Homecoming, and so many others—are moments I will treasure forever.

Greg and Jeff shared an instant connection, and it wasn’t long before they became fast friends. Their bond grew through shared conversations about any and everything—politics, philosophy, education, finances, and history—long, thoughtful discussions that occurred weekly. The laughs, the debates, and the occasional outbursts will forever be engraved in my heart.

Jeff had a way of making every conversation meaningful and every moment shared feel special. His passion for knowledge, thoughtful dialogue, and loyalty to friendship was unmatched. It is rare to find someone with such depth, warmth, and understanding.

Though words can never fully capture the impact of losing such an incredible person, I take comfort in knowing that his spirit will live on through our conversations, memories, and shared laughter.

This I do know: Our Father in Heaven makes no mistakes; He knows what’s best even when we struggle. God will comfort us through this time, provide us with peace during this storm, and grant us understanding in our moments of grief.

Sending our deepest and most sincere condolences to his immediate family. May you find peace and joy in knowing and reading all the echoes of love that surround Jeff’s memory.

Rest peacefully, Jeff. You were loved deeply, and your presence will truly be missed.

“ I had the pleasure of working with and more importantly knowing Jeff for the last 7 years. There was never a time when Jeff did not bring a smile to my face or make me laugh. He was truly the bright spot in the lives of all who knew and shared life with him. The team and I will miss you. Our thoughts and prayers are with your family.

“ It is difficult to sum up 38 years in one post/comment. I remember the first time I met you. Who knew from that first encounter what we would become. I am still processing the fact that I can't just pick up the phone and call you or text you. Rest well J, until we meet again. Love always! Audra

“ My name is Elehany and I was Jeff’s housekeeper for about 19 years. I want to express my condolences to Jeff’s family. Jeff was a great man. He was respectful, kind, generous, and always made me feel like family. I thank God for placing him in my path and making him a part of my life. He will always be in my heart and I am never going to forget arriving to his house and having him greet me with the words “Hey my sister!”. He will be dearly missed but I know that God has gained another angel.

“ I can't even begin to put into words how heart broken I am about the loss of my dear friend and brother Jeff. A God Fearing man who always kept Christ in our conversations and always extended prayers that I am watched over regularly. We didn't speak often but when we did hours would go by that we would joke, laugh and just get caught up. I am confident God had him call me on 10/27 for He knew that Jeff was going home to Glory. I will miss you my friend. With you as one of my Angels watching over me I know I will be ok. REST IN PEACE my brother. You are already missed.

“ Mr. Jordan was a dear brother, and son to The Pointer Family in Macon, Ga. The Pointers are very sad to see that another child has been called home. To Keisha and Chianti stay close and know that we are praying for the Ingram/ Jordan Family. It seems like yesterday was the last time I heard him laugh as he was talking about he was cooking “ fried Chicken.” Rest on Jeffrey no more worries, it is all in Gods hand. I will see you on the other side. Love you dearly.

“ I’m so sorry for your loss Lakecia Berry. I can’t imagine how heavy this must be for you right now, but I want you to know you’re not alone. Your dad’s love and the memories you shared will always be a part of you, and I’m here for whatever you need—whether that’s to listen, to cry with you, or just to sit quietly by your side. You are so strong, even in the face of this pain, and I hope you can lean on those who care about you during this time. Take it one moment at a time, and let yourself feel everything you need to.
