“ I am heartbroken to just learning of the Homegoing of my beloved friend & prayer warrior. I am still in shock! To Chuckie and the entire Broadus family I hope it ease your pain knowing others share your loss. Joan was a Godly woman and well respected by all at Dan Daniel Distributiion Center (AAFES) , Newport News, VA. Joan's wings were ready but my heart isn't. I will always cherish her memories.

“ Faith (Suzette, Suzy, SuzyQ Aunt Joanie B's niece) My Aunt Joanie B touched my life in one of the darkest moments of my life. After I lost my mother, (my world) in 2014 and was residing in Atlanta briefly I had the wonderful opportunity to spend time with my Aunt in 2017. She pulled me out of my sadness with her smile, helped me focus with reading books together, laughing uncontrollably at our ratchet shows, found creative ways to laugh at our arthritic challenges, and loved going out to eat together. She always encouraged me to not forsake the assembling of myself at the churchhouse, lol. She was one of the classiest, well dressed women that I knew and inspired me to step up my wardrobe. Our last conversation ended with prayer and an "I love you". I grew to love her so... and my heart hurts. But when I think about all the memories we made I am grateful that they will forever be etched in my heart. What makes me smile is thinking about how we BOTH rode the grocery carts when we went to Kroger...and she beat me out of the store, lol. I will end for now, but the love that God allowed us to share....will last forever. I'll see ya when I get there. Suzy aka Suzy Q aka Suzette aka Faith

“ Nana was always a maternal figure in my life. Growing up as a friend of Ashley, and close family friends of the Broadus family, I spent a lot of time around Nana. Much like the rest of the Broadus family, she took me in like I was one of her own. I have so many fond memories of her, but probably the one that sticks out the most is from when I first met Ashley when we were very young. I had come for a sleepover, we had dinner, made a mess as kids are wont to do, and we got up to leave and Nana looked us straight in the face and told us that in this house, you will clean up after yourselves. I crack up every time I think of it, and it only made me feel more like family (and taught me a humbling lesson too). I still remember that before I left for India, Nana gave me this beautiful heart shaped necklace that I wore every day while I was there, to remind me of home and the love I was so lucky to have from this family. I miss her so much, and I'm sending my love to the rest of the clan.

“ Our beautiful Joanie B!!! She had such great style, this picture was taken at the 2004 Broadus Family Reunion, she was a big part of our family and we loved her dearly, that voice, and that smile, and personality too, yes that was our Joanie B.

“ I was lucky enough to get to Nana, as I've always known her, later in her life. I am best friends with her grandchild, Ash, and as such spent a great deal of time around the Broadus home. I feel like a part of the family, and every time I saw Nana, she always had a smile for me, and always asked about my family, and my grandmother. This photo was taken before all of us went out to dinner one night, and I'm glad I documented such a sweet moment between a mother and her son. I'll miss Nana very much, and my heart is with the Broadus family in these difficult times.

“ Aunt Jo was a mix of sweet with a little bit of sassy. What I admired about her was how comfortable she was chatting it up, laughing, smoking her cigarettes (yes, she smoked when she lived together. WAY BACK THEN..but that was her only vice!), doing her crafts, and just being downright comfortable "in her own skin." She was a strong woman, who never let the world get her down. What a queen! - Donna Lemon (Aunt Jo's 2nd cousin--but more like a niece)

“ I remember when my cousin, Jo, bought a bad car from an auction. She didn't know that it was a stick shift--and she didn't know how to drive a stick shift! So, she ended up driving that car for 20 years--in the wrong gear! We'd always know when she was coming, because you could hear the car whining from a distance. It was not long after, that she came to live with us in Atlanta. Through good times and bad times we've stayed the closest of first cousins. She was such a giving person--and a forgiving person. She'd take a bus, or ride by truck--with knitting needles in hand, prepared to knit all night--if you needed her. You could always depend upon her. - First cousin, Willa Lemon-Campbell

“ Randy and Chuckie, I am so sorry for your loss. These are different times that we are living in and while we are all learning how to navigate life in different ways it is still important to know that someone cares and is praying for you. I want you guys to know that I, (Knobby McCrackin) am praying for strength to see you through these uncertain times.

From Nina A. Harris-Williams, and Ceasar B. Williams to Randy, and Chuckie; both Ceasar and I would like to express our deepest condolences to the both of you. Aunt Joan indeed played a major part in our lives as well. She is a precious gemstone that is irreplaceable, her smile alone tells all about her personality, she will never be forgotten, her legacy will continue be lived on with us. She will always be loved.
