“ My deepest condolences to John’s family and friends. I was very sad to learn this news. I knew John from his work at CDC - he left an impression and will be missed very much. He was friendly, generous, and always so positive. He was interested in people and asked questions about their lives and families. And he impressively always remembered the details! My day was always a little brighter when he was on the floor and stopped to say hello. John, I will miss hearing your upbeat greeting and learning about things you were excited about and the people you loved. Your kindness was appreciated.

“ *Rich and Jackie Edwards,
I have so many fond memories of John and miss my conversations with him, John was always spreading joy, happiness and love. He never spoke a negative word. He was strong in his faith and spoke fondly of his mother and family. He was a man of God and never let anything or anyone shake his strong faith/belief. We would always say around the office, John did not forget a date, he would remind us of upcoming events, birthdays, trips we went on and he always let me in particular, know about FAMU's band the "Marching 100", when they were performing and when they were coming to Atlanta. We are all feeling so blessed that our paths crossed with John, and we miss him dearly.*

“ What a blessing to have known John. He knew everyone at CDC yet always made time for each individual and made them feel special. We celebrated November with our birthdays being one day apart. He touched so many lives with his personality and he is greatly missed.

“ John, what a sweet soul and a true light on this earth. He always had a smile on his face and a "Roll Tide" for me whenever we saw each other. I am truly blessed to have known him. I will miss hearing him say "Hey Ms. Alesha, how you doing?" and receiving an encouraging word from him as he would quote something from my pastor Rev. Jerry D. Black. I know he will be in heaven with the sharpest suit from D&K (his favorite store) and a huge smile ready to greet all the saints. May God comfort his family and give them the strength and courage they will need as we know the Lord is close to the brokenhearted. John's memory will be eternally etched in all of our hearts.

“ John, who would have thought Monday January 22, 2024 would be our last conversation. You told me on Monday "I don't know what's going to happen tomorrow but stand still and see the salvation of the Lord, because God is going to be with you". You always left me encouraging text messages. You will be missed . I will miss the Emory visits you made, checking on me during night shift. You always remembered everyone's birthday.... "Boy, what a great memory God blessed you to have." Your infectious smile and your sermons you preached are great memories I will always hold close. Rest on my friend! Till we meet again!
Your November Emory birthday friend.

“ John, you were the definition of all things good. You were consistent in your interactions, in your joy, in your support of others and in your love for your friends, family and most importantly your relationship with God.

It will be so incredibly weird to no longer receive your well wishes—for literally everything. If someone made it public, or you remembered, you went out our your way to always give and celebration with everyone. Thank you for being to others what we all need to be to others. For always doing the good things and the sincere things for everyone. Your gift of light was given to the world, I know I was lucky to have received it. You will sorely be missed. Rest well dear gentle, and kind soul. Job well done.

My deepest condolences to your family, friends and loved ones.

“ Mr. John, you was the definition of a true friend. You encouraged me and I encouraged you. Your attention to details and remembering certain dates and milestones was your Super Power! Your smile was contagious. When I saw you for the last time in December, I don't know what it was , but I was soo very happy to see you! Like I hadn't seen you in ages! A memory I will hold dear is us bike riding on the belt line. You said it felt like you was on vacation in California while bike riding. Mr. John you can now be on vacation everyday. You left no crumbs behind and lived your life to the fullest. You will be deeply missed.

“ John I don't know how to process this. They say don't question God but I'm not ok will this you was truly an angel 🙏 walking this earth.. I've been knowing and we became friends 7th grade. You would also see me and give me a hug and we would just talk about anything. One thing I love about u was that you always remand you and didn't change for nobody.. you where always happy and cheering everybody on.. they say everybody has an expiration date but why did urs have to come so soon.. John I'll miss you and will cherish our memories our times and our friendship. I'll continue to pray for your family strength especially your parents because nobody should have to bury there child.. John class of 06 we will miss you

Sending my deepest condolences to John's family and friends that loved him dearly. John, I will miss you so much.... your great smile, beautiful heart, joyous spirit and encouragement!! You were truly one of a kind and one of God's angels on earth! I will miss your birthday wishes, wonderful and thoughtful gifts! I will miss hearing you say, "Ms. Shawn, "you are my favorite AKA" and you wearing your pink and green Argyle socks in celebration of founders' day. Your kindness and thoughtfulness were unmatched! Who will keep me up to date on the Lakers, Falcons and Roll Tide schedules??! Praying the Lord heals our broken hearts! Rest in heavenly power my dear, sweet friend!! Much love! ~Ms. Shawn Burden

I thank and praise God for sending John to Calvary Hill Baptist Church as our drummer. Truly, he served the Lord with gladness! So it comes as no surprise that John's consistently positive attitude spread easily to others.

His love for sports was infectious, When John attended sports events, he dressed in the appropriate team athletic garb from head to toe!

Every Sunday morning the piano lamp and the keyboard were turned on I was ready to play as John continued to pray for us prior to each service. I know he's with Jesus and he's fantabulous, but I will miss John greatly.

Thank you, Lula, for inviting him to Calvary Hill.
