“ Sending so much love to the family and praying for peace that passes all understanding. I met Joi several years ago when we were invited to her house as part of a celebration for Alisha's birthday. She had so much positive energy and a light that shined bright. May God give you comfort and healing. - Kimberly Moore

“ To my beautiful and smart niece, this is Auntie Carmen, we are all sad out here in California and your cousins send their love too, especially to the family. I wish that I weren't so far away, I wish that I could have touched your face and kissed it, I wish that I could have hugged you tight. I Love you just as much today as I did your tiny little body when you came home from the hospital. I Love You
