“ God Bless everyone who reads this post. My Condolences and Prayers go out to Josh's Family and Friends. I am Andy, Joshua's barber. I watched Josh grew up from a young boy into a man in the short while of him coming to the shop. My son was his 1st barber at the shop and had this video that i would like to share. He will most def be missed around here.

“ To the Family of Joshua Garay

I am a coworker of Josh, and I wanted to reach out and share how much he meant to those of us who worked alongside him.

Josh was a rare kind of person. We bonded over the simple things—My Jamaican culture, weightlifting or laughing about our shared love for Sean Paul’s music. He brought an energy to the day that made the hard work feel lighter.

What struck me most, however, was his dedication to his mindset. Watching him complete his paramedic program and move into his precepting was inspiring. It takes a special soul to choose a life of service, and Josh had the heart and the drive to be one of the best. He was so close to the finish line of a goal he worked incredibly hard for, I was so proud of him.

Please know that his presence is deeply missed. I feel his absence in the quiet moments and in the movement of the workday. My heart goes out to you as you navigate this unimaginable pain.

*With deepest sympathy,
Jermaine Samuels.*

“ I met Josh while we both were attending Gwinnett Fire Department Academy, from the moment I met him, I could see his passion for life and how full of life he was for others that were around him. Josh was much younger than me, but we bonded fast and helped motivate each other during our training days. We always texted or called each other throughout the week to talk sports and his love for the Knicks, as I'm a Hawks fan, we continued to motivate each other to keeping chasing after our God given talents. Josh will always have a place in my heart and mind. Love you brother, Victor
