“ Joy, the last 37 years passed much too fast. We didn't get to do it all, did we? I'll always remember those holiday gatherings, sharing food and frivolity with our families at each others homes. Our lunch dates. movies and shopping trips. Did we really need all that stuff? Probably not, but sharing those times with you was always a treat. We relied on each other to share the good, the bad, and all that lay in between. I'll be planting something new in my perennial garden next year for you. Rest in peace and love, my friend. Although I will always miss you, I know you're smiling, and well, once again.

“ I was Joy's pastor for many years. She was an amazing woman and a wonderful friend to me. She had a smile that could light up the world. I am glad her pain is ended, but I pray for her friends and family in this time of loss.
