“ I remember the first time I had the pleasure of meeting Aunt Joyce back in the 90's. She always had me laughing and Byrd loved her to death. The two of them would be cutting up and Markus would just shake his head. I will cherish the memories and keep the family in my prayers at this time.

“Joyce was a very caring and loving person. When I was introduced to the family, she welcomed me like I was already family. We had several life talks and she was straight forward. I am so blessed to have such a wonderful family that always showed me love. She will always be my Auntie. R.I P.

“Oh Auntie my Auntie, such a vibrant spirit. She loved everyone despite their flaws. Family was everything to her and boy did she love her grandchildren and great nieces and nephews all the babies in the family made her smile. She would sit there and listen to anything you had to tell her and give you her feed back real and raw. She was an amazing, outgoing and humble person. She was and still is the glue that holds her family together. Me and my children will never forget that smile from our FaceTime call. We love you always ! Give my mom and my granddaddy a hug for me.

“ I will miss my Aunt Joyce. I have never met a person that had so much impact on so many lives. She would always have a smile on her face with a heart of gold to match. I remember that she would always say do right by others because you dont want to miss you place in heaven. You will be missed sweet Angel as you move up to take your place next to God.

“ I remember the first time I met Joyce Smarr. My husband (Herman) would tell me something about each one of his siblings to prepare me for the big day. Everybody that he told me about seemed normal until he got to Joyce. I swear to God, he had me afraid to meet Joyce! He said, “ now my sister Joyce, she might have to grow on you “. Now I kept telling myself that she couldn't be that different from the others. Each one that I met was so very nice so I felt like family already. The day came for me to meet the infamous Joyce. Herman introduced us and he looked like he was sweating too! Then Joyce told him,” okay, you can go now. I remember saying “lord help me “. Herman left and it was me and her and the smell of a pound cake she was cooking.. She said, what did my brother tell you about me? I said he just told me that you don't take no mess from anyone, she said, okay, he told you everything you need to know about me. You like pound cake? She cut me a slice and I fell in love! She has been the most wonderful sister -in-law anyone could ever ask for. I understood why she was the matriarch of the family! If you had a problem, she had a problem and she wouldn't give up until she helped you solve it. She would just look at a child and they knew to what she meant. If we had anything going on in Perry, Ga, she would bring food and just take the burden off of you. I feel so blessed to have been a part of a family of so many loving people.

Aunt Joyce thank you for all the love you have shown to me over the years. Married into the family but you treated me just like all the other nieces. I am grateful that God allowed us to keep in touch with one another. It is sad to know that you are not here with us physically but your legacy will live on forever. I will remember the talks we had especially “ Family is everything.” You showed that gracefully. I will miss you but God knows BEST. I know to be absent from the body is to be present with the Lord. I met Joyce Smarr a little over 50 years ago at Southern Bell. I'm not certain if this Joyce is the same Wonderful Joyce Smarr of those days. She was a beautiful, loving and caring person. I took the chance on internet and just googled her name from my past in search a person who left such a memorable mark on my heart. May God continue to bless and shine on her family. Juliette H.
