

Juan R. Gomez

April 26, 1954 - February 13, 2025

Juan Ramon Gomez was born to the proud parents of Aurea and Carmelo Gomez, Sr., on April 26, 1954. He was the second of four sons.

Known by his closest friends as “JG,” Juan grew up in the Bronx, NY where he became a lifelong Yankees fan. He started working at Yankee Stadium at 15 years old, selling everything from peanuts to beer and worked with the organization before retiring after 47 years.

As a child, Juan attended Blessed Sacrament Elementary School, where he and the Gomez family became good friends with now Supreme Court Justice Sonia Sotomayor. His parents hailed from the island of Puerto Rico, and he was very proud of his culture’s traditions, especially the food. He was also a Roman Catholic and completed all of his sacraments.

Juan worked at Morgan Stanley Dean Witter for three decades. There, he met his wife, Yolanda Gomez, and they married in 1988. While at the finance company, Juan worked at the World Trade Center. He was a 9/11 survivor.

He became a homeowner in 2016, quickly becoming a beloved neighbor and friend to all in his Stockbridge neighborhood.

In addition to being a Yankees fan, Juan knew everything about all sports and loved to play them all. His TV was always tuned into a big game or match.

He always had a story and a big smile for everyone he met.

Juan leaves to mourn his passing: his wife, Yolanda Gomez; his daughter, Jada Gomez; his son, Aaron Gomez; his brothers, Jose and Jorge Gomez; and a host of relatives and friends.

“ Juan never was a stranger but was always a friend to everyone he met. I first met him walking in the neighborhood which he did often and with that big smile and New Yorker accent you knew it was Juan. He loved his family, home and neighbors and was proud of his life accomplishments. But, it was evident that his true love was his family and know that he will be truly missed and forever loved. Deepest condolences to the entire family. Rest in peace my friend.
