“ Hey Kady, I miss seeing you come through the door, asking how your day was, and sharing stories as I would lay across the bed like teenagers laughing and for me sometimes crying. The past six months getting to know you better has been Therapeutic for me after my loss. You became part of our family. I never knew we would have so much in common. I will miss you putting your different hair pieces on me to show me lol! You became like a sister, a friend, and a second mom to my kids. I'm so sorry this happened, If only I knew wheeling you to the triage doors would be the last time I would see you. I waited for you to come back out, but you never did! I was told you were going to be OK! I never got to say see you later. I would've said now don't be stubborn and let them treat you! Thank you for Kady for sharing a piece of you with us! I will never forget you, rest easy, keep a watch over us and we still need to make that VI trip we talked about! Until I see you again my friend! Tonya and kids, Maxx and Maxine, Sharlot and Riley!
