“ Kaliyah was not only my sister, but my best friend and I thank God for blessing me with her presence for 28 years. She was selfless, and even when i was going through, what i was going through she made sure she checked in on me. A I love her forever for that and I will just miss my best friend.

“Kaliyah was a force of nature—strong, funny, loyal, and endlessly loved by those lucky enough to know her. She had a bold, blunt honesty that made her unforgettable, but underneath it all was a deep desire to make others feel good—never out of obligation, but because she truly cared.

Kaliyah was a devoted daughter, sister, and friend. She had a knack for collecting the little things that made her smile, especially her beloved Miniverse treasures. Her love for animals was just one expression of her huge heart, and her energy could light up a room. She worked hard and loved harder.

Those close to her will always remember her playful habit of calling her mom “Barbara” a joke that captured her funny spirit and the deep bond she had with her mother.

*Her memory will live on in the stories we share, the laughter she sparked, and the love she poured into every corner of her life ~
Love always, your sister Kiara*

“Kaliyah was the love of my life, my peace, my inspiration, and the person who completely changed my world. Being with her felt like finally understanding what real love was. Being with her felt like home. She had a heart that was both gentle and strong, full of creativity, kindness, and an energy that made everything around her better. She loved to travel and dream big, always talking about the places we’d go together, the memories we’d make. She found joy in cooking, creating, and building her mini verse worlds with such care and imagination — it was her way of expressing the beauty she saw in life. Loving her was the best thing I’ve ever done, and being loved by her changed me in ways I’ll never be able to fully explain. She made me a better man, gave me purpose, and filled every day with meaning. Though she’s no longer here physically, every part of me carries her — her love, her dreams, her light — and I’ll keep living for the life we imagined, for the both of us. ~ Michael Wang
