“ My brother, my brother, my brother, almost 5 years later and I’m still pondering over the fact that you’re no longer here. So much hurt and pain that I’m still holding onto since your departure. So many unspoken words and all I can do is think about what I could have done differently or be there for you like you were for me. I love you with everything in me and miss you dearly. You were one of a kind and the life of the party. No one could ever replace you couldn’t even come close. I’m hope you have finally gain your peace and happiness.

Your little Sister, Jam.

“ here it is 8 months later and we still dwell on your passing. As everyday is hard, these days that we are approaching is fairly heart from this month to your birthday (next month), to December. I think about you daily, I promise you proved to me that it's nothing like losing a brother. I know everyone is hurting inside even though they don't speak on it, but it has affected us all deeply. The love for you is unconditional dude. Hope you're looking down at us proudly.

“ Dear Wright Family: Please accept my sincere condolences for the loss of your loved one. May the love and support of family and friends comfort you greatly during this difficult time. The Bible also gives us comfort and hope to see our loved ones again right here on earth by means of the resurrection. “There will be a resurrection of the righteous and the unrighteous “ May you have peace as you think about this beautiful hope for the future.

It's been so hard for me to speak out. I miss my son every minute every hour of every day. I haven't been able to visit his grave cause I can't deal with him not being here with me. He was my first born and my only son. I had him when I was a teenager and we grew up together and he was my best friend. He was always there for me and his sisters and we miss him so much. I cry everyday and I pray that he's at peace. Baby I may not have told you every day but I love you so much and if I could trade places with you I would in a heartbeat. I can wake up every day but my life will never be the same without you in it. When you left a part of me died as well. I will never be the same. I'm managing until the day I can see you again. RIP my baby and I love you so much❤️.
