“ Praying that God will comfort the Addams family with a lifetime of loving memories shared with Mother Adams, scripture tells us in Revelations 14:13 “And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them.” Be encouraged the Lord will carry y’all through.

Much Love,

She called me Sax (Saxon} and I called her Lelia Bell (Lelia) We established and maintained a meaningful friendship throughout high school. I remember my classmate with much love and fondness. “ Lelia Adams, my sister-in-law, my sister, was kind, gentle and loyal. We engaged in small talk after meeting each other. It was then that I saw a beautiful spirit in her and was elated to be a part of her family. As the years passed, I remember all the long phone conversations we had. She was my family historian. She remembered everybody! Over the months that passed after the passing of her husband, I can remember when we both cried in sadness and laughed about the funny things I remember about him as I was growing up. She was also a good listener who never wavered in having time for her family-near and far.
