I have known Leonie for most of her life as we lived as young people in the same house (different apartments) in Guyana, the country of our birthday. She has always been a quiet person. Doing what she she had to do in the best way she could. Even though she was one of many siblings, she stood out in her own particular way. As we grew up things changed. She and her family left for the USA and we lost touch with each other. I have always been in touch with the rest of her family through different ways. But Leonie being who she is I've never seen her own social media. Then suddenly, there she was with her siblings. I recognized her immediately and told myself we would meet in person soon. Through social media I saw her at many family celebrations including her sister's wedding and her mother's 90th birthday. The last time I saw her was the celebration of her birthday. Then came the news no one wants or is prepared to hear, her passing. I know many of us are still in shock, but as always, in times like this we console ourselves, trying to accept the fact that God knows BEST. Remember the great times spent with her and all the positive lessons she taught and loose, let go and let God. Peace and Love to you her family.

“ All I keep remembering of Leona is that smile and laugh she had so sweet. Such a nice person. I remembered going home by her in 95th street to visit her sister Paulette may she also. Continue to rest in heavenly peace. My best friend. We all would just sit and chat about our school days at St. Thomas RC school in good old GT. I will miss her. Rest in peace my sister friend...

Leona "Lele" from the first day meeting her at Bank of America we connected and shared many days of laughter, and stories from our lives not to mention food dishes that she would bring that either her or her husband cooked. She taught me a few dishes like BORA (Hers taste better) I will miss hearing her voice as she calls my Ms.Zeeeee (high pitched voice) And that larger than life smile. Rest well dear friend
