“ My heartfelt condolences go out to the family and friends of Lydia. I pray that Jehovah, the God of peace grant you the mental peace and comfort mentioned in his word the Bible at Phillipians 4:6,7.I know loosing a loved one in death is a tragedy, however we look forward to a joyful time in the near future when Gods Kingdom (mentioned at Matthew 6:10) will rule over mankind. Under that Kingdom no resident will say I am sick. (Isaiah 33:24) There will be no death nor tears. (Revelation 21:3,4) The loved ones we lost in death will be resurrected. (John 5:28,29) We will live forever here on earth in the abundance of peace.(Psalms 37:11) Meditate on Gods word, and draw close to our Heavenly Father Jehovah in prayer during this difficult time. visit jw.org for more scriptural comfort on dealing with the loss of a loved one.

“ The Family of Ms.Lydia Roston TaggartPlease accept my sincere condolences. I know you feel hurt at the loss of such a dynamic person. But know that God also feels your pain. It's comforting to know that God cares about us and knows what it's like to lose a love one. (1 Peter 5:7). God has promised to wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more. The former things have passed away. (Revelation 21:4, 5) Another promise that will give you comfort is shortly no resident will say I am sick. (Isaiah 33:24) These promises are true because God cannot lie. (Titus 1:2)
